special to the Indianapolis Journal. MONTPELIER, Ind., Nov. 13 .- There is certainly a sensation in store for the oil producers of the Indiana and Ohio fields, as the runs and shipments of the two fields for the month of October show that the price of the product will have to advance a few pegs yet before the operator will push the drill. The Standard wants oil and wants it bad, and to get it will be compelled to make an inducement to the operators in the way of advancing the crude product to at least $1.25 per barrel in the Indiana and Ohio fields. At the present prices of pipe and material oil should at least bring that figure, and many of the wealthy producers are holding their product for a better price, and they are bound to get it. With the formation of a large independent company In sight it will have a tendency to put the ce up. FATAL SHOOTING AFFRAY. Hunter Killed by a Farmer's Son. Who Is Badly Injured.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. KOKOMO, Ind., Nov. 13 .- A shooting affray occurred at Captain Busby's farm, a mile southwest of town, at an early hour this morning, in which one man was killed and another wounded. At 6 o'clock Owen Springer and Fred Smith, living on State street, started out quail hunting. In crossing the Busby place, William Busby, a son of the owner, came out of the house and ordered the hunters away. It is said Busby began clubbing the dogs and displayed a revolver, threatening to kill both men and dogs. Springer and Smith climbed over the this city, the body was placed in charge of fence to an adjoining farm, when the quarrel was renewed, followed immediately by shooting. It is said Busby opened fire with gard to its disposition. Mr. Overstreet was his revolver, and Springer fell with a bullet wound near the heart, dying almost instantly. Smith, who is Springer's brotherthe death of Samuel L. Smith says that Busby, after killing Springer, had turned the revolver on him and that he (Smith) was compelled to shoot in self-defense. The dead man was brought to town and Busby and Smith were arrested and taken to jail. Busby's revolver was found to contain two empty chambers, supporting the self-defense story of Smith, who says Busby was trying to kill him. Smith was not hit. Busby refuses to give his side of the affair, but it is claimed that he also will plead self-defense. Busby is the only son of Capt. B. C. Busby, a wealthy retired farmer. The farm is "posted," and it is said Busby has been greatly annoyed by hunters who knocked down fences and crippled stock. Springer, the victim of Busby's revolver, was a young man, with a wife and infant child. At the time of the shooting the hunters were on the Rickett's farm and Busby on his own land. Busby's wound is not regarded as dangerous.

DEWEY AND CROKER MEET. The Admiral Introduces His Bride to the Tammany Boss.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.-Admiral Dewey and his wife breakfasted to-day at 9:30 in their apartments at the Waldorf, and two hours later left the hotel for a walk. In compliance with the request made by the admiral on Saturday he was not molested in any way, and the persons who recognized him on Fifth avenue contented themselves with salutes and passing on. The admiral returned all salutes by raising his hat, and Mrs. Dewey bowed. The couple walked through Central Park to Sixty-fourth street. At that point they were confronted by a group of nurse girls with their charges and turned back, leaving the park by the Sixth-averue entrance.

On their way up Fifth avenue Admirai Dewey and Mrs. Dewey met Richard Croker at Fifty-seventh street. Mr. Croker was driving, and he raised his hat and pulled to the curb when he recognized the admiral. Mr. Croker started to dismount from his wagon, but the admiral stopped him and reached up to shake hands. Then he introduced Mrs. Dewey and the party stopped for a moment to converse. Mr. Croker drove away and the admiral and his bride continued their walk. They returned to the hotel about 1:30 and had luncheon in their rooms. Many persons sent cards to them, but no visitors were admitted. Late in the afternoon Admiral and Mrs. Dewey left the hotel for a drive. Admiral and Mrs. Dewey returned to the hotel about 6 o'clock. The admiral's son dined with them. The party occupied a box at the Manhattan Theater to-night, the play being "Papa's Wife." Admiral Dewey stipulated that he should attend as a private citizen and that there should be no preliminary announcement. The members of the party reached the theater before 8 o'clock and were ushered into their box before any of the audience arrived. The admiral sat behind his wife and son and the audience did not recognize them during the early part of the performance.

Bryan Goes Hunting.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Nov. 13.-William J Bryan and son joined Col. M. C. Wetmore's hunting party here to-day, and left for the latter's game preserves in the Ozark mountain. In the party, besides Mr. Bryan and Mr. Wetmore, were J. J. Hogan and daughter, Lacrosse, Wis.; Harvey Salmon and daughter, Sam Cook and wife, and Mrs. Thompson, of St. Louis. Mr. Bryan declined to be interviewed, saying he was making the trip solely to get away from public events.

"Straws Show Which Way the Wind Blows"

During the fortnight that the winter-weight Overcoats have been in demand we've sold three times as many of the $20 grade as of any other. That shows what a strong line it is. What a variety it must comprise. How fully the values, the styles, the making and the fit must satisfy. There are twenty-five different lots at $20. They are the equal of anybody else's $25 coats. They were made in our own workrooms, by our own tailors and cut on our "Fit-Reform" patterns. Best line of overcoats ever shown at $20. But they are no better for $20 than our $7.50, $10, $12.50, $15, $18, $25, $30 and $35 coats are for the prices at which they are marked. From beginning to end it's a complete and perfect stock of Overcoats.

GAME BETWEEN DE PAUW AND IN-DIANA, ON BLOOMINGTON FIELD.

Indiana Won First Half by 34 to but De Pauw Objected to a Decision and Threw Up the Game.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Nov. 13.-But one half of the De Pauw-Indiana game was played to-day, the De Pauw captain calling his men from the field. It was on account of a decision made at the end of the first half, after Indiana had scored thirtyfour points. De Pauw had the ball on Indiana's twenty-five-yard line and attempted a place kick. The ball failed to clear the cross bar and a De Pauw man fell on the ball, it not having been touched by an Indiana player. De Pauw claimed a touchdown, but Referee Searles ruled that the player was offside, making it a touchback. There was twenty minutes of quarreling by the three hundred persons present, who crowded on the field. When time was called for the beginning of the second half the De Pauw men, led by their captain, left the field. There was much ill feeling manifested, but no serious mix-ups occurred. This may, however, be the beginning of a rupture between the two colleges as regards athletics. Indiana outplayed her opponents at every point of the game except in the handling of punts. Foster, who played full back on the defensive, was lamed and could not get under punts in his usual good form. At one time only De Pauw played a good game. She carried the ball fifty yards by line-bucking and then lost on downs. Aside from that one brace she was never "in it." Blakely, Weik, Davis and Ellis did the best work for the visitors, the latter making a sixty-five-yard run from the first kickoff. He also did some good tackling. There was much fumbling throughout the game, Indiana losing the most by it. For the home team McGoveny, Pike, Captain Hubbard, Hawley and Johnson did the best individual work, but the whole team played a hard, steady, progressive game. McGoveny made a sixty-five-yard run, Weik downing him on the five-yard line. "Mac" made a numof shorter runs. Hubbard, Haw-Pike and Teler carried the well and made from three twenty-five yards every time. Johnson broke through the line repeatedly and succeeded twice in blocking a punt. Indiana's offensive play was nearly perfect. but the line was a little weak on the defensive. The ends broke up the De Pauw interference well and Aydelotte made several fine tackles. Normal Met Its First College Opponent and Was Defeated. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

MUNCIE, Ind., Nov. 13 .- The Eastern Indiana Normal University football team met its first college team to-day, and suffered defeat by the score of 23 to 0, the victors being Howe Military School, of Lima, Ind. A big crowd was present. The visitors played both end and line bucking, but did not make much headway against the strong line of the normal boys, but Reynolds, a professor in the school and an old player, usually gained his rushes. Spence and Maines were the other particular stars in the visiting team, Cromwell, a Muncie boy, making a brilliant block of Gill's attempt to punt. The ball was almost constantly on Normal ground, but Gill scored a run of thirty yard, narrowly missing a touchdown Twice he kicked the ball from center into the goal. Maines scored the first touchdown in five minutes. Spence failed to kick The same player scored another touchdown ten minutes later and Spence kicked goal. Five minutes later Maines made another touchdown and kicked successfully. Muncie had the ball in the second half and it required seventeen minutes' play for the visitors to score again, Maines making the point, d Spence kicked goal, making the score to 0. The tackling of Banta, Younce, Deardorf and Youngman were features. The university attempted both line bucking and end plays, but could gain little. The game ended with the ball near the visitors' goal, haring been kicked on a long punt by Gill, Deardorf capturing the ball. The line-up; Beecher ...... Right end ........... Koons Zanders ......
